

NEWSLETTER

End of project

May, 2019

Success Stories on Social Accountability Project

When the watcher is watched—3

Social Accountability has eased our roles—5

RAC unlocks development—6

Table of Contents

When the watcher is watched: Page 3

District CSOs influencing good governance: page 4

"Social Accountability has eased our roles": page 5

PET unlocks development in Chisimuka: page 6

When citizens are empower: page 8

Attaining accountability through RAC: page

Community rescues abused SIG: page 9

Kaudzu Communities activates their power: page 11

Mchinji communities smiling their way to development: page 12

Isaack Makina, a beneficiary of Phaloni Road, Phalombe

Overview of the Social Accountability Project in Malawi ticipation in tracking and monitoring with with citizens' limited par- vocacy. ticipation in budget cycle as well as tracking.

Malawi (AAM) in partner- working and collaboration ship with Civil Society Ag- for increased advocacy on riculture (CISANET) with funding ment at district and national from European Union, the level. impact districts project were Rumphi, Phalombe and Nsanje for a ject provided a platform for period spanning 2016— increased citizen participa-2019.

with relevant and key insti- sources management. tutions such as the Ministry of Parliament clude Reflection Action cal and national level. Circles, ADC's, VDC's, District Councils, Counci- Though the project has Houses.

Overall, the project sought knowledge council levels.

Using Human Rights-Based Approach the project

The Social Accountability focused on building the caproject, fully known as the pacity of stakeholders. The "enhancing citizens' par- project also built strong budget networks and coalitions key stakeholders for equitable and sustain- through signing Memoranable development in Ma- dum of Understanding with conceived District Councils and Meagainst the background of dia engagement as well as alarming reports of massive developing and using poliabuse coupled cy dialogue to advance ad-

The project also strengthened Civil Society Organi-Implemented by ActionAid sations coordination net-Network public resources manage-

Mchinji, Most significantly, the protion in meaningful policy dialogue to promote trans-The project also had na- parency and accountability tional level engagements for effective public reof Finance, Public Ac- It is also worth noting that counts Committee and the due to regular media en-Social Welfare Committees gagement, the project has had increased participation of the media in promoting Other key stakeholders in- social accountability at lolors, Members of Parlia- phased out, it is highly ex-Ministries, Media pected that project beneficiaries will use the various interventions such and to contribute to improved gained to continue engagtransparency and accounta- ing duty bearers in critical bility in public expenditure areas such as budget forat national and district mulation and implementation.

When the watcher is watched...project awaken's stakeholders's role on CDF

Agness participating in the construction of Mlowe Bridge she helped to demand

Constituency Development Fund the tale of governance around CDF (CDF) started, Rumphi residents in the district. velopment fund was in safe hands. and monitoring for equitable and Members of parliament, being law makers, were looked upon as ideal keepers of the purse. The parliamentarians, thus, enjoyed unquestionable authority and monopoly on the use of the fund. No one raised an eyebrow.

"What our member of parliament told us about CDF was final because everyone in the constituency thought the CDF belongs to a parliamentarian," says Agness, a mother of two.

"This is why we never cared participating in the identification of CDF projects, let alone procurement of the materials. We were completely in the dark."

However, says Agness of Village Mlowe, T/A Mlowe in the district, the coming in of the European Union funded-social accountability

For almost 11 years, since the project in 2016 started reshaping Nyirenda, rest assured that the de- participation in budget tracking sustainable development in Malawi," sought to, among others, strengthen CSOs and communiparticipation in planning, budget analysis, and expenditure tracking for effective public services delivery.

> "The project proved to be an eye opener in the district," says George Mbizi, a secretary of Rumphi Civil Society Network. "Soon after the project was intro> duced here, ActionAid Malawi and Civil Society Agriculture Network, organized an orientation exercise in Public Expenditure Tracking (PET) for members of the district civil society.

> As an output of the training, we resolved to conduct PET on CDF. targeting Rumphi Central, Rumphi East and Rumphi West Constituencies."

> Mbizi says CDF was targeted due to limited knowledge among CSOs and communities on how the fund is utilized in the constituencies. "However, community members lacked guideline information in implementation of projects funded through CDF," he adds

As feared, the PET report produced by CSOs and members of community unearthed a number of governance shortfalls in the target constituencies. The report, for instance, noted blatant flouting of procurement guidelines in the purchase of the CDF materials.

The report further bemoaned lack of implementation committees for the projects under the CDF.

The CDF guideline stipulates that for each project, there shall be a like one 27 year-old Agness The project, "enhancing citizens' Project Implementation Committee consisting of not less than 5 persons whom shall be responsible for planning and execution of the project in liaison with the Member of Parliament and maintain and keep records of all aspects of the project under their responsibility.

> However, only Rumphi West out of the three sampled constituencies, had constituency CDF committees comprising all relevant stakeholders to run the fund, reads the report in part.

> Ironing out the issues during the CSOs PET interface meeting in October, 2017 in the district, the late senior Chief Chikulamayembe called upon stakeholders, especially members of parliament to soberly look at the report and act on the recommendations. He called upon the chiefs to mobilise their subjects to ensure that there is trans-

Continued to page 4

parency From page 1 and accountability in the implementation of the projects of the under the CDF.

On his part, Director of Planning and Development, Frank Mkandawire, urged stakeholders in the CDF implementation to ensure that there is improved transparency on CDF.

He said access to information is critical in the implementation of CDF and asked members of parliament and CSOs to ensure that constituents are in the know of the all guidelines around CDF.

Reacting to the findings, on the daily basis to ensure that recommendations in the report are implemented.

The PET exercise is bearing fruits, as testified by Agness Nyirenda, a community member in Mlowe, Rumphi.

"I am happy that during the 2018/2019 financial year, I was involved in the identification of Mlowe Bridge Construction as one of the projects to be financed through the Constituency Development Fund," says Agness.

District CSOs influencing good governance in the districts

Thom: The public expenditure tracking has enhanced service delivery in Phalombe

Rumphi East, Honorable ence of civil society organisations the back saying it has helped to pro-Kamlepo Kalua, said he (CSOs) networks in their districts is vide bridge between the communities will be engaging the CSOs for reacting negatively to performance and duty bearers in as far as good and community members of public institutions at the district governance, especially budget tracklevel.

> Mchinji and Rumphi now have a new ganisations network in this district has perspective towards their CSO net- helped us a lot in promoting accountaworks.

> ence on governance in these districts, ject like construction." thanks to the European Union (EU)funded three-year Social Accountabil- She said the CSOs have helped in the Participation Budget Tracking and Monitoring for Equi-Network (CISANET) implemented the people on budget tracking. from 2016 to 2019.

Senior Chief Kaduya of Phalombe Rumphi

Member of Parliament for Usually, people think that the exist- parted Phalombe CSOs network on ing, is concerned.

> But people from Phalombe, Nsanje, Kaduya said: "The Civil Society Orbility in public projects. People are now knowledgeable on how much is This is due to the CSOs positive influ-budgeted and spent for a public pro-> ity project titled "Enhancing Citi- transparent construction of a police unit and hospital guardian shelter at Migowi trading centre in the district, table and sustainable development among other positive interventions. In in Malawi" which ActionAid Malawi the four mentioned districts, CSO net-(AAM) and Civil Society Agriculture works have proved to be the guide of

> > According

To page 6

"Social Accountability has eased our work"

There is no denying the fact that their roles in the communities. We the budgetary process in develop-2014 caused a chaotic working re- might lationship in the districts. The four, members of parliament, ward However, while the challenges chiefs couldn't really agree on who other districts councils, Rumphi, was supposed to do what.

mentarians and councilors. The cial Accountability project. two engaged in endless battles, taking turns in accusing each other of Implemented by ActionAid Mala-'trespassing' into the constituency wi (AAM) in partnership with Civ- "As councilors, we were so weak development fund local develop- il Society Agriculture Networks in oversight. However, the project ment fund, district development the social accountability project -- empowered us to take charge of the funds, among other development spanning from 2016 to 2019-- oversight in the district. For inpackages in the districts.

considering that we were just new in various capacity building ses- When the community raised the in the decentralization environment sions on accountability and trans- matter with me, I took it up and and needed support from the old parency, with emphasis on budget discovered that some funds were guards," says Damson Chiphaka, tracking. Councillor for Mpatsa Ward.

members of parliament looked at building sessions were key to us enemies rather than a key stake- strengthening oversight and imthought we had come to replace being implemented.

the return of ward councilors in were just praying that the situation ing sustainable budgets and moniimprove

It was even worse for the parlia- European Union (EU)-funded So-engaged various stakeholders such stance, there was a bridge T/A as chiefs, councilors, council secre- Nankhama which was poorly con-"It was particularly tough for us, tariat and members of parliament structed.

"Both the council secretariat and Kachingwe, says such capacity ed," says Chiphaka.

specific CSO's among and district among This was compounded by poor coordination between all the stakeholders day." toring developments" she says.

Concurring with Kachingwe, Chiphaka says the project has imcouncilors, council secretariat and might still remain unchecked in proved situation for the better. He says due to various capacity build-Mchinji, Phalombe and Nsanje ing initiatives, they (councilors) have since moved on, thanks to the noted they have a very important oversight role at the district to ensure that resources are spent for intended purpose.

misappropriated. The council intervened, the funds were recovered, AAM Project Officer, Thokozani and quality bridge was construct-

It' not just councilors hailing the holder in local governance and de- proving service delivery in the four project for enhancing their capaci-Some chiefs, too, the district councils the project was ty. Senior Chief Kaduya says following empowerment of communi-"We noted that ties, the project has made it easy there was lack of for chiefs to mobilise their subjects skills to take part in governance projects.

> Councils on in- "Initially, it was difficult to mobibudget- lise communities take part in moniing, budget anal- toring projects in the communities ysis, gender fo- as they thought it was none of their cused budgeting business. The social accountability project has eased our role," she Senior Chief Kaduya: It is now easy to mobilise the people act!ona

PET unlocks development in Chisimuka

When a parent sends a child to buy groceries and finds out that the child has not bought all the listed items, said Marcel Germann, former European Union (EU) Ambassador to Malawi, it is very likely that any responsible parent will demand back the change (unspent money).

"That's the essence of expenditure tracking. You must also follow up and track the expenditure of public resources because it is your own money." Germann made the remarks in October, 2017, during the interface meeting between rights holders and duty bearers over the CDF PET Report in Rumphi District.

Chisimuka communities in T/A Katumbi took Germann's tip as gospel truth. Under the European Union-funded social accountability project titled: "enhancing citizens' participation in budget tracking and monitoring for equitable and sustainable development in Malawi" the communities established Chisimuka Reflect Chisimuka RAC facilitator, Catherine Mfune, (Centre) and others crossing a bridge constructed after demand the service from the council.

Civil Society Agriculture Net- public resources in their area. work.

The capacity building activities Initially, such as public expenditure track- ports of theft,

Action Circles (RAC) at the facili- ing (PET) made Chisimuka comtation of the project implementing munities realise how remotely inpartners, ActionAid Malawi and volved they were in expenditure of ance thematic lead- vices delivery. George

From page 4

Mlowoka, the Rumphi CSO net- Phalombe CSO network chairper- among others. development committees at every for Phalombe Youth Arms Organistage of budget tracking.

ment on the knowledge the net- sary skills that have made them opment committees through the project.

was to strengthen CSOs and com- Kachingwe, network's govern- tracking for effective public ser- among CSOs and district councils work has been involved through son who is also executive director acquired public projects.

One of the objectives of the project AAM project officer, Thokozani Rumphi said AAMmunities' participation in planning, CISANET are satisfied as the probudget analysis, and expenditure ject has injected specific skills on inclusive budgeting, budget analysis, gender focused budgeting

Rumphi District Council's Director sation, Vincent Thom, said the pro- or Planning, Frank Mkandawire, ject has met its objective as CSOs also hailed the project saying it has He attributed this good develop- in the district now have the neces- improved the working relationship between the CSOs and the council. work and some members of devel- active in implementation of the "The project has brought cordial relationship existing between Rumphi District Council Network." CSO said Mkandawire.

Rumphi District Council, a key oversight institution which the project worked closely with.

public From page 7 ture projects were never taken as governance relations, hence the tees (SMCs) had the monopoly of their issues as people thought that power shifts. The most important information, including identificait was public resources, says Cath- thing is that RACs also strengthen tion of the projects for the funds. erine Mfune, facilitator for Chi- poor and excluded people's capaci- Noting the anomaly, Chisimuka simuka RAC.

of Chisimuka RAC, we realised acquired under the project, Chi- not meet the transparency and acthat any project from government simuka RAC is now able to track countability standards as laid down is implemented using our own tax- resources under various develop- in the implementation guidelines. es, hence it is our project. Since ment packages in the area. shares.

form for diverse people to unite grants, and social cash transfer. sues that affect them and ultimate- countability and transparency is on the identification, sharing of the ly, collectively influencing policy the use of School Improvement information on the costs of the SIG misappropriation and practice.

and analysis, reflection and action the headteacher and chairperson of abandonment of infrastruc- needed to lead into a change into the school management committy to communicate and be heard then, we started taking interest in Some of the funds targeted with meeting between the SMC and any public project in the area," she PET by Chisimuka RAC included members of Chisimuka RAC. safety nets such as public works Since then there has been an in-RAC offers communities a plat- programmes, school improvement creased transparency and account-with a common purpose, identify- According to Mfune, one major the school. The SMC is now able ing and analysing governance is- area the PET has helped instil ac- to engage the wider communities

Grant (SIG) at Hewe Primary re- In this space, there is sustained School. She says in the past, only

RAC employed PET "However, with the establishment Thanks to the knowledge and skills which revealed that the funds did

"The exercise led to an interface ability in the use of SIG funds at

When citizens are empowered to promote accountability

People of Mlowe in Rumphi used to think that Constituency Development Fund (CDF) comes from Member of Parliament. Little did they know that this is public money which government provides from collections of people's taxes.

It was for this reason that they • were not interested in following and knowing how this money was spent on public projects.

But now the situation is different as they know that CDF is public money which the community • should track its expenditure to ensure that it has been used without abuse. Thanks to the three-year project titled "Enhancing Citi- any public project in her area. has opened eyes for many people," | Equitable and sustainable devel- funds are used. This is a responsi- trickled down to the citizens. opment in Malawi" which Ac- bility which we hardly carried be- Like in Mchinji, Phalombe and tionAid Malawi (AAM) and Civil fore this accountability project Nsanje, the people of Mlowe in Agriculture (CISANET) implemented with funding from European Union Nkhata said her participation in tive interaction between them and (EU).

Members of Parliament, Ministries are made by all. and Media Houses.

Mafuness Nkhata, a member for Phalombe, Damson powered her and many community because they lacked skills. members as they can confidently

Speaker of Parliament Richard Msowoya: Citizens need to hold elected duty bearers to account Network started," said Nkhata.

sant with development processes public services. The project which started in Feb- hence making it easy for her to take part in the budget tracking of "But this accountability project person for Mzokoto RAC.

zen's Participation in Budget "Through budget tracking, we are he said. Chiphaka gave thumbs up Tracking and Monitoring for able to monitor how government to the project saying its impact has > Rumphi are therefore all smiles because there is increased produc-RAC also helped her to be conver- public institutions that deliver • ruary 2016 and ended in January engage in budget tracking in her "Since we started participating in 2019 targeted Reflection Action area. She added that in RAC, the tracking of resources and mon-Circles (RAC), Area Development members that are led by a trained itoring of services, we have noted. Committees (ADCs), Village De- facilitator, construct democratic that the quality and quantity of •velopment Committees (VDCs), space, where everyone's voice is public services being provided • Councilors, given equal weight and decisions have improved for the better, as the service providers have started to operate following clear set Councillor for Mpasa Ward in guidelines for different windows Chiphaka, of development. This has reduced • Mwachisonthi VDC in Mlowe, many community members were extravagances in the use of re-Rumphi said the project has em- not interested in governance issues sources thereby contributing towards the quality and quantity of services," said Eggie Banda, chair-

Attaining accountability through RAC

When Eggie Banda, 37, fell ill in February 2016, she feared for her life. The health facility in her area, Mzokoto Health Centre in Chinyolo Village, Traditional Authority Mwankhunikila, Rumphi district, always disappointed her.

Every time she visited the facility for treatment, health workers at the facilities would simply diagnose the disease and prescribe medicines for her to buy from private trad-

"I had no courage to ask why there were no medicines at the facility as I regarded myself not worthy asking such questions to authorities. I thought all those working in public sectors such as health, education, agriculture and transport are our bosses who work to do us a favour," says Eggie, a mother of four children.

However, the coming in of a European Union (EU)-funded Social Accountability project by ActionAid Malawi in partnership with Civil Society Agreement Network (CISANET) in the area changed Eggie's take on governance. Launched in 2016, the project came to, among others, address limited knowledge among citizens on governance and accountability processes in Malawi's four districts of Rumphi, Mchinji, Phalombe and Nsanje.

One key structure established under the prograssroots governance committee with teacher. area development committees to conduct budget and public expenditure tracking in the communities.

Eggie, a member of Mzokoto village development committee (VDC) joined Mkozoto RAC in April, 2019, and, since then, her knowledge in governance has only improved. A total of 19 more members under Mzokoto RAC gained knowledge in governance through Community rescues abused SIG in

Chihana narrating how the SIG funds were rescued

There was a time people of Chinyolo area in Rumphi district hardly knew how duty bearers were spending public funds. They were always at the receiving end and did not participate in the development processes.

However, this is now a thing of the past as Chinyolo Area Development Committee (ADC) is able to track public expenditure to ensure that all public funds are used for its intended purpose.

"We used to wonder how some institutions spend public funds as the budgeted funds could sometimes not match with the work done," said Chinyolo ADC chairperson, Harvey Chihana.

Chihana boasted that Chinyolo ADC is now on top of their game in as far as watchdog role on public funds and work are concerned. He picked out Lungazi Primary school where Chinyolo ADC managed to track the public funds and discovject was the Reflect Action Cycle (RAC) a ered financial abuse by the school officials including the head membership from village development and He explained: "At this school, the officials received School improvement Grant (SIG) and another money for school rehabilitation from government. The community was not convinced on how the school used these funds. Therefore, the ADC, the councillor and Primary School Advisor went to investigate and found that K293, 710 was missing. We squeezed the school officials and we are happy that they returned the money."

Concurring with Chihana, Senior Chief Mwankhunikira in the district said following the incident the schools are now afraid of abusing public funds. He said this has led to honest and effective use of To page 10 public funds such as SIG.

From page 9 "There has been a great and positive change on the use of SIG in all the twelve primary schools that are in Chinyolo area," said the chief. Chihana attributes this success to the "Enhancing Citizen's Participation in Budget Tracking and Monitoring for Equitable and sustainable development in Malawi" project which Actionaid Malawi (AAM) and Civil Society Agriculture Network (CISANET) have been implementing with funding from European Union (EU). Through the project, Chinyolo ADC was trained in budget tracking, the knowledge which they lacked before the project rolled out in February 2016.

Apart from Rumphi, the project was also implemented in Mchinji, Nsanje and Phalombe. Senior chief Kaduya from Phalombe district echoed her Rumphi counterpart by describing the project which ended in January 2019 as a success and best governance gift from AAM, CISANET and EU.

The project's efforts were in line with global efforts that aim at curbing misuse of public funds as stipulated in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The Agenda requires governments, societies and international organisations to mobilise the necessary resources to bring people out of poverty, and build inclusive societies which are considered the root causes of today's crises. As nations mobilise resources to finance this global agenda, there has been more interest in how governments are raising revenue to meet the development targets as well as how they are spending these funds and reporting progress on the Sustainable Development Goals.

AAM project officer, Thokozani Kachingwe, says the project has narrowed down the 2030 agenda to the community level to empower them with budget tracking skills.

"In the past we have seen a lot of case studies at national and district levels of abuse of public resources. Hence this project aimed to ensure that citizens are empowered and placed in a position where they are better able to monitor and track national and district budgets for equitable and sustainable development," said Kachingwe.

She added that to achieve this success, the project organised trainings at national and district levels on social accountability, budget tracking and budget policy advocacy among other activities.

Influencing accountability through RAC

From page 9

series of training offered by ActionAid and CISANET.

"As Mzokoto RAC, we meet every Thursday to discuss governance issues affecting our area. One issue I brought up during one of our meetings was the limited availability of drugs at Mzokoto health facility," she said.

Following the meeting, we approached the Health Advisory Committee of the area and together, we agreed to be conducting routine monitoring of the delivery, availabij; ',65][lity and use of drugs at the health facility. I am pleased to note that since we started conducting the exercise, the availability of drugs has improved at the health facility."

Eggie adds that using the same PET skills acquired through the project, Mzokoto RAC has helped improve service delivery in other sectors of education, agriculture and transport.

Apart from Mzokoto, the project instituted RAC at Katowo, in T/A Katumbi; Chinyolo and Mzokoto in T/A Mwankhunikira and Zowo and Mlowe South in T/A Mwamlowe to entrench a culture of social accountability in the use of public resources. There are a total of 25 RAC in each district of Rumphi, Phalombe, Mchinji and Nsanje where the project was implemented.

Chisimuka RAC meeting in progress in Rumphi

Kaudzu communities activate their power

Like in many other districts in Malawi, Nsanje district lags behind in development for many people. Many factors contribute to this, but all point to powerlessness among citizens and their institutions.

This gives space to duty bearers to operate in the way they want and not necessarily responding to the needs of the people. The area of Traditional Authority (T/A) Ngabu has not been spared.

Nsanje has well established governance structures at the community and district levels in line with the country's decentralisation policy. The structures include Village things around, as testified by as the market officer abandoned Development Committees, Citizen Facilitator. Forums, Governance clubs.

and religious dogma, citizens in RAC in 2016. It has 16 partici- friendly services at the health fa-Nsanje respect elders and leaders, pants and two facilitators. Action- cility in the area. and it, therefore, becomes difficult Aid Malawi gave us various necthority on accountability issues. training on good governance, ment committees are now transtheir own devices as the citizens culture and health, and operation lect beneficiaries to different desuffer in silence and wallow in of RACs," says Thom. untold poverty.

tion of the European Union-Social bility shortfalls in the area. "There is general recognition of Nsanje has significantly changed development challenges they were processes, including demanding trict.

The project supported the mobili- Thom says their engagement with zation of six Reflection Action duty bearers have since borne Circles (RACs), including Kaudzu fruits. RAC in GVH Kaudzu, T/A Ngabu. The RACs were the main fo- "Following our intervention on the rums for mobilization and citizen reports of corruption at Agriculempowerment. Following a series ture Development and Marketing of capacity initiatives for the Corporation (ADMARK) depot, RACs, Kaudzu RAC has turned people started buying maize freely

One of the projects funded from the CDF which was monito completion Development Committees, Area Christopher Thom, Kaudzu RAC corrupt practices," he says.

"With support from ActionAid dzu RAC says the project has also However, due to cultural values Malawi, we formed the Kaudzu led to strengthening of youth for them to confront those in au- essary skills and tools through She adds that chiefs and develop-As a result, duty bearers are left to budget tracking, policies in Agri- parent and honest in how they se-

Thom says the project enhanced transfer. However, following the introduc- their knowledge on the accountabearers.

Concuring with Thom, Mary Yohane, another faciliatator at Kaunvelopment projects such as public works programme and social cash

Accountability Project by Action- Through RAC, the community the roles of the citizenry in the Aid Malawi in the district in 2016, started conducting analysis of the management of the development governance narrative in the dis- facing and engaged relevant duty for the services and accountability. Citizens are no longer considered as mere recipients but key stakeholders in the whole process.

> "Duty bearers and people in powerful positions are now operating with caution, recognizing the fact that citizens are watching them," Mary.

Mchinji communities smiling their way to development

Chatting the way to development: Mkanda RAC discussing development issues in during one of their meetings

The impact of the social ac- improving their well-being. countability project did not spare the communities in For instance, Traditional Authorities (T/A) have successfully monitored Zulu, Mkanda and Mduwa in the construction of the under-Mchinji district.

Following the introduction of the Social Project by ActionAid Malawi Accountability in the district in partnership with Civil Soci- and in particular Gomani Vil-Agriculture (CISANET), the communities dous improvement in the way have seen an enhancement of the right holders are conductthe their knowledge and skills ing themselves," says Olivetta in budget tracking, thereby Lawrence, a 28 years-old lady communities five clinic, road networks and other infrastructure projects.

Accountability "The introduction of Social Network lage in 2016 has seen tremen-and RAC member.

CONTACT:

ActionAid Malawi Art Business Park Behind Kaunda Puma Filling Station P.O. Box 30735 Lilongwe 3 ,MALAWI

Tel: +265 (0) 1 759 861 | 759 865 Fax +265 (0) 1 755963

Website: www.malawi.actionaid.org

Facebook: ActionAid International Malawi

Twitter: @ActionaidM